Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Colonel and His Friends: A Suppressed Play; A Comedy in Three Acts Lucius - Art thou not sorry for these heinous deeds? Aaron- Ay, that I had not done a thousand more. Even now I curse the day-and yet, I think Few come within the compass of my curse - Wherein I did not some notorious ill: As kill a man, or else devise his death; Ravish a maid, or plot the way to do it; Accuse some innocent, and foreswear myself; Set deadly enmity between two friends; Make poor men s cattle stray and break their necks; Set fire on barns and hay-stacks in the night, And bid the owners quench them with their tears. Oft have I digged up dead men from their graves, And set them upright at their dear friends doors Even when their sorrows almost were forgot; And on their skins, as on the bark of trees, Have with my knife carved in Roman letters, Let not your sorrow die, though I am dead. Tut! I have done a thousand dreadful things As willingly as one would kill a fly; And nothing grieves me heartily, indeed, But that I cannot do ten thousand more. - Titus Andronicus. When the storms of the people s wrath and disgust had gathered about Federal Judge Hanford s head he did not know, because of his great stupor. Others, who were hovering about his unhappy fortunes, did know and took council among themselves. They sent Senator Samuel H. Piles to John Perry to see if the whole matter could not be chloroformd. Yes, replied Perry, it can. The Senator rubbed his hands after...
